DETAILED ACTION

The following is in response to the amendment filed on October 23, 2002.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are directed to a method for storing, handling, and transporting a roll of a paper machine, board machine, or finishing machine. The claims do not cite any specific method steps for storing, handling, or transporting (see claim 22 for comparison), but rather characterizes the features of a movable base made into a roll box.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 14-22 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art does not disclose or suggest a roll box for a roll of a paper machine, whereby the box has a moveable base for transporting the roll, a detachable or raisable cover fitted thereto, devices for securing the roll to the moveable base, and also devices for controlling the temperature and humidity inside the box during transport or storage. Accordingly, the prior art does not teach or suggest a method of storing a roll of a paper machine whereby the roll is contained within an environmentally controlled movable carrier, stored within the vicinity of the operation location, and transported to the location when needed without a crane.

Prior art means of storing paper machine rolls include boxes without control devices for the interior environment and/or large rooms or warehouses having controlled environmental conditions. Rolls stored in this manner require cranes, forklifts, or other large lifting devices for transporting the rolls to the desired location on the paper machine. The roll box of the present invention also reads over climate controlled tractor trailers or railcars, as these means are not suitably sized for the dimensions of a paper machine roll, nor are they suitable for transport of a roll near a paper machine.

Priority

Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority based on an application filed in Finland on January 13, 1999 (U990013). It is noted, however, that a copy of the certified copy of the foreign application has not been received in this application from the International Bureau (PCT Rule 17.2(a)). This was incorrectly indicated in the previous Office action.
